

PRESS RELEASE

New KREMLIN REXSON SAMES website

KREMLIN REXSON and SAMES, members of EXEL Industries, are proud to announce the launch of their new combined website. The user will have access to a comprehensive range of equipment solutions including spraying, powder and dispensing applications, both in manual or automatic options.

This web site is user-friendly and multilingual enabling the user to find information in their own language.

It recognizes the language of the web users and redirects them to their appropriate home page. It includes a powerful search tool allowing easy and fast access to the most suitable KREMLIN REXSON or SAMES equipment solutions dedicated to specific markets (renewable energy, automotive, aeronautics, rolling equipment, furniture, kitchen cabinets, windows and doors, ...).

Full technical information is available for most products describing customer benefits and related innovations. All KREMLIN REXSON instruction manuals are also available for download.

In addition, the new web site gives access to our customer success stories, allowing the user to download our market and product line brochures and gives a quick and easy access to all services offered by KREMLIN REXSON and SAMES.